

Fundraise for LHON Collective: Host a Restaurant Night

Introduction

Collaborating with a restaurant is a great option for fundraising and raising awareness about LHON. Reach out to a local restaurant and ask them which night(s) are typically their slowest. Ask if they would be willing to host your fundraiser and donate a set percentage to LHON Collective. You will be helping them bring in traffic on a slower night.

What you may need

- Signs or fliers (include a pic of your family or loved one who is your motivation for hosting this fundraising event, if you'd like)
- You may want to print cards that say something like "Thank you for dining with us and supporting LHON Collective research towards a cure!"

How do you collect donations?

The restaurant will handle the money, but you may want to provide a sign with a QR code for additional donations to LHON.org.

How to Promote Your Event

Post on social media, tag close family and friends, and the local restaurant. Ask the restaurant to repost to their account to reach more followers. Also, print and post signs at and near the restaurant.

Fun alternative ideas

Perhaps other local businesses might consider donating a portion of their proceeds to the LHON Collective.
